

Linda Amato

Believable Alternatives

MY LEGACY!

The childhood of the past is drifting away,
Although I am to stay.
I do not feel old,
As I have been told.
The essence of my mind formulated,
A journey through the lessons I cultivated.

I am in awe of the silence within that I embrace.
This journey is a discovery of my path of grace.
I bow in pleasure to the release of yesterday,
For all the lessons learned today.

Insight, clarity, and guidance has been my direction,
When all I ever asked for was simply a suggestion.
May the truth of self be my legacy I have gifted in life,
For my children, family, and friends to accept as a path to release their strife...

It has been a fantastic ride these last seventy years,
I've learned my truth through the shedding of many tears.
Filled with a reason to know the answers to the outcome
I observed the actions of those that traveled at my side.